

DAILY DEMOCRAT

TUESDAY, - - - APRIL 29, 1856

A paper mill and four locomotives were destroyed by fire, at Milwaukee, on the 21st inst. The mill was that of E. Prieger & Co. The locomotives were those of the Milwaukee & Western Wisconsin R.R. Co.

✓ At a Democratic meeting in Bath, on the other day, Hon. J. W. Moore, of Montpelier and J. M. Nesbitt, of Bath, were recommended to the people of the District as suitable cases for the offices of Circuit Judge and Commissioner of the Land Office. Mr. Moore is the health's Attorney for that District.

SHOCKING CRUELTY.—A HEAVY sentence was convicted at the Columbus (N. C.) Superior Court last week of manslaughter and brandishing a deadly weapon. The defendant, a colored man, was convicted of having, by cruel neglect, starved two small children who had been intrusted to his keeping by the wardens of the poor of Columbus county. They died of hunger and want of attention.

✓ The Democrats and Anti-Know-Nothing of Franklin county had a glorious meeting on gates were appointed to the District Convention, and a strong preference expressed for Elijah Nuttall, of Henry, for the Judgeship, and Pa. U. Major, of Franklin, for Commonwealtheership. The utmost harmony and enthusiasm pervaded the meeting. The resolutions were adopted unanimously.

At a meeting of the Democracy of Hamilton County, at Owingsville, on the 14th inst., the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That we hail with joy the triumph of Mr. Kenyon Brown, an old line Whig, over his opponent, a rabid Know Nothing and member of the K. K. State Executive Committee, for County Judge.

HAMILTON COUNTY, INDIANA.—The Indian Journal of a recent date boasts of the fall of Hamilton County, Ind. We clip this item from that paper:

A friend informs us that one night recent summer in the southwestern corner of the Colorado desert, he was awakened by a woman who was presented by his wife with three girls; he was armed with two canteens; by his mare with two canters; by his sword with twenty pangs, all at the same time.

JAMES ELECTED

Democratic triumph—Pottawatomie rode the Black Republicans red, horn, foot, and gown, and defeated triumphantly—the Co. of Democracy in agony, and the Co. of Democracy utterly subdued—Over hundred majority !!!

We have only this morning to say that the election yesterday succeeded far beyond our expectations. The Democratic ticket throughout has a majority of over two hundred votes. Judging from the result here, and what we learn from other precincts, we shall be able to give the figures as follows:

We publish the above just for grandeur.
Right, Mr. Bagle. "Give her a lick ahead."

[For the Louisville Democrat.]
Courtship in High Life.

Mrs. Editors: "Madam Ransom" says to is an interesting and somewhat amusing: "The low intrigue going on between party. The Fiddle and his young lady." The Chancellor has written a love letter to "The Chancellor" brother, the parent affection and devotion, promises to marry his beloved immediately for the August election. Now if the worthy Chancellor be really in love, we don't see how should not marry as well as other folks. But illuminated persons may be has notion of a riage, and is only playing the coquette with his brother. This we consider an unworthy retri-his bitherto good character for open desecration and fair-play. Still we can't see, if he does in to marry, why he should be coyish about it—not marry at once, and "make an honest whorl of her." Why tamper longer with her virtue be ashamed of an open and honorable ally with her, she should spurn his private address. We would say, "Come out, Judge Pirtle; J. Pirtle, come out." "McCarthy, come out; come McCarthy!"

OPEN DEAL!

 The alliance between the Know-Nothing and Black Republicans, there is no doubt, will keep up the free States through the Presidential election. The New York Times, a leading Black Republican paper, writes:

"The republicans are equally wary and still embarrassed. Mr. Seward would undoubtedly their first choice—and his nomination would be a great advantage to the free States of the western and the New England States, the rep-party owes its strength in a very great degree to the fact that it has been able to keep the preoccupation, at a very early day, to react to his fixed hostility to the principles and policy of the American party. It is feared by many of the republicans that the party will lose its popular ticket, and thus insure its defeat. General Chase has strong friends in Ohio, but outside of Ohio, he is not popular. It is not at all likely that the republicans would find it necessary to make a change of policy. They would make up a new one—not identified with the political struggles and animosities of the Freeing this necessity, some of them have been able to do so. It is not likely that it is supposed that he would concentrate the support of the republicans and North Americans, and the support of the republicans and North America generally. He has character, wealth, position; what he lacks is political experience and a party organization. Whether this defect will defeat him remains to be seen. Some of the well-republicans are anxious for the nomination

DEERBERG'S BIBLES.—We copy the following from the Independence (Missouri) Messenger:

The great notoriety which the Rev. Dea. Koehn has given himself in furnishing Sharpe's rifle with the name of Beecher's Bibles. A lot of these formidable weapons were on Wednesday last exposed for sale at the residence of the Rev. Mr. Koehn, here from the Territory by the owners, sold, the proceeds invested in provisions. They were sold off at from $10 to $15, which is a very high price for iron and lead. The fact of their being sold, and the low prices which they brought leads us to the conclusion that the difficulties of the war have rendered the purchase of the reverend gentleman and his pious colleagues a very profitable speculation. We are glad to learn what disposition is being made of his goods, and are sorry that we cannot see the goods, openly, and miscellaneous harangues, in a

As American citizens we are sure that the citizens of New York would prefer him in the shape of provisions, clothing, and farming utensils, which are greatly needed, than arms for the negroes and their fellow-citizens. We admire the good intentions of those men for turning their weapons of war into agricultural implements, but we think there is a safer market to all who may wish to be the same disposition of their arms."

the Department this morning. Her destination is to join the East India squadron. We presume that she will sail in a day or two.
